. . . we give to each other.

The effort to gain the knowledge of the universe.
Strength to endure the failures and disappointments:
the missed basket;

an important test.

Minutes of happiness:
the winning touchdown;
the prom;
graduation.

Four years of living with each other; knowing one another.

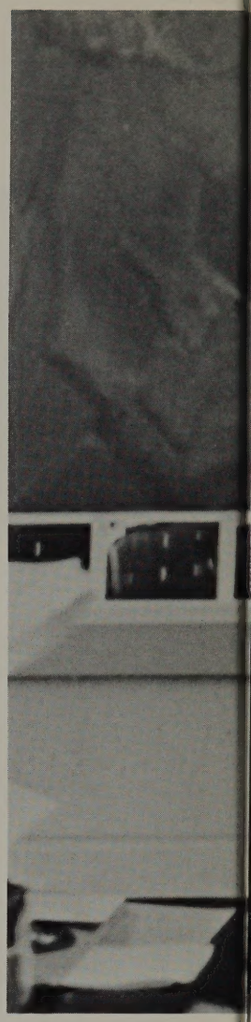
Marian High School



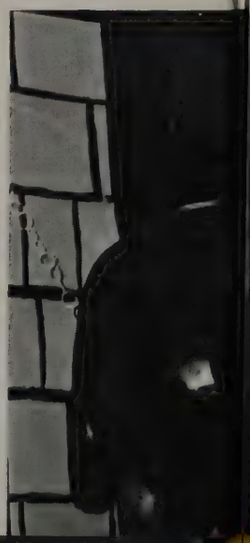
The School Year Begins

"Where's room 119 . . . How do you open this locker . . . Where's the swimming pool?" On September 6, the halls of Marian High School came alive with questions like these. The carefree days of summer were past and more serious matters were at hand. Schedules had to be rearranged, lost freshmen guided, summer tales related and old acquaintances renewed.

First days' activities included freshman orientation, a welcome back assembly, Mass for the entire student body, and a dry-run of the newly scheduled classes.

Assemblies

The 1968 Homecoming Court: sophomore representative Karen Scheibelhut and her escort Rick Sciba; senior representative Marie Carrico and escort Bob Christianson; Frank Harley escorting Queen Judy Hesch; junior representative Debbie Horvath and escort Cole Brainerd, and freshman representative Cathy Robertson.



Marian's halfback Doug Block carries the ball for five yards past a Culver Cadet.

Floats Spark Festivities

A past queen returned to pass on her crown to a new one, floats representing the different classes traveled the field and Marian ended its football season with a 34-6 victory over Culver Military Academy. These were the events that made up Homecoming '68.

Last November 9 Rose Buzek, 1967 Homecoming queen returned to relinquish her crown to a new queen, Judy Hesch. Queen Judy was crowned during half time activities by senior class president, Steve Hogan.

The representatives from each of the classes and the queen rode on to the field in floats done by each of the classes. The seniors' float portrayed the theme "This is Knight Country" and carried both senior nominees, Judy Hesch escorted by Frank Harley and Marie Carrico escorted by Bob Christianson. "Spirit of 70" was the juniors' float and it carried Debbie Horvath escorted by Cole Brainerd. Sophomore representative Karen Scheibelhut escorted by Rick Sciba rode with a Jolly Green Giant saying "Can Cadets" while the freshman took "A Knight to Remember" as their theme and placed Cathy Robertson escorted by Mark Kensinger on the float.

Homecoming night was not the only time given to festivities. Throughout the week Homecoming buttons were worn by students and faculty and corsages were sold on the Friday before the game. Homecoming night ended with a dance at Marian after the game.

School Spirit Week:

One week and four classes in competition was enough for a lively School Spirit Week.

Sue Saracino, a member of the YCS, volunteered to head this year's campaign with the theme "Think Yes." Points were awarded on the basis of greatest participation in the planned activities.

The juniors got a head start in the race by having the largest attendance at the skating party. The other areas of rivalry included selling "Think Yes" buttons and basketball team buttons; Courtesy Day; "Think Yes" mystery game and hall decorations.

Each class was assigned a hall and was judged on originality and theme. The winning hall was chosen by Austin Carr and Collis Jones, basketball players from Notre Dame. They judged the junior hall with the "We came, We saw, We conquered" theme to be the best. The class of '70 also won the coveted Spirit Award.

Theodore Roosevelt and Conrad Birdie Liven The Marian Stage Productions

Some of Broadway's funniest moments were presented on the Marian stage. The first production was "Arsenic and Old Lace." Certain additives—cyanide and arsenic—in elderberry wine carried twelve men to the "Panama Canal." Zany characters and zanier situations typified the play. The year's first production in the words of "Teddy Roosevelt" Brewster lead the "Charge".

The second production was a midwinter presentation of Neil Simon's hit "The Odd Couple." Felix Unger quickly changed Oscar's bachelor pad into a homemaker's delight.

The draft was on everyone's mind, including Conrad Birdie. Marian became a part of Sweet Apple, Ohio, in the spring musical, "Bye, Bye, Birdie." This was the setting for Conrad's farewell to adoring fans.

In the words of director Frank P. Scardino, "It was a very successful year."

Screaming fans clutch Conrad (Cary Kuminecz) Birdie.

A tense moment in the Brewster home as portrayed by Joe Kalil, Anne Streer, Lee Copenhaver, Tom Derdak and Marie Carrico.

Felix (Mark Monserez) berates Oscar (Bill Plasschaert) about his sloppy habits.

Helen Fricker, Kathy Burnett and Donna Bender sadly face the leaving of Conrad Birdie.

Cinderella Theme Chosen For Ring Dance

April 18. After months of anxious waiting the day finally arrived. This day was filled with memories for the class of 1970. On that day they received their class rings.

That morning the rings were blessed during a Mass held in the gym. Each member of the class was presented his ring by Father Donald Verhagen.

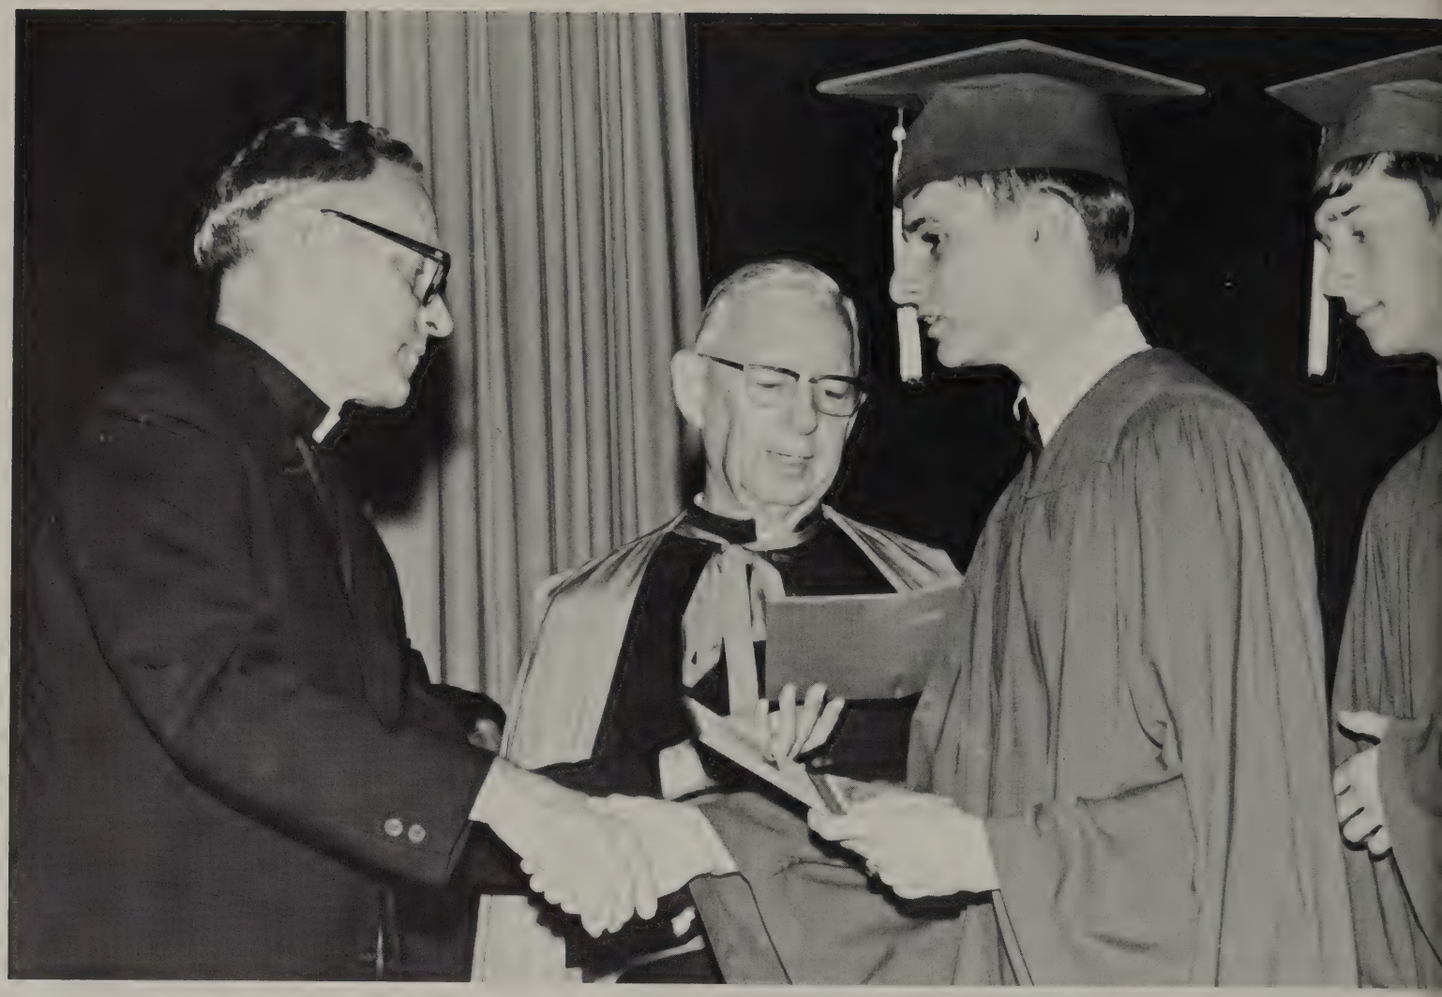
But the day's activities were not over. The juniors were able to leave school early in order to prepare for their ring dance that night. The "Midnight Hour" was chosen as the theme and was carried through by the use of Cinderella decorations. A palatial estate garden was laid out in the front entrance. Cinderella's coach and mice waited to carry home any tardy guests who stayed after the clock struck twelve.

Jane Hoff and Marilyn Szekendi compare their new rings with that of senior Carmela Madar.

Father Andre Papineau distributes Holy Communion to juniors during their Mass.

Mark Debroka and his date swing to the music of Eddie Knight and his orchestra at the Ring Dance.

Juniors spent many long hours preparing the gym to resemble Cinderella's ballroom.



Msgr. John Sabo and Fr. Donald Verhagen present diplomas to John Zellers and Michael Zemlyak.

Seniors pass through the receiving line as they enter the Athenian Room for the Senior Prom.

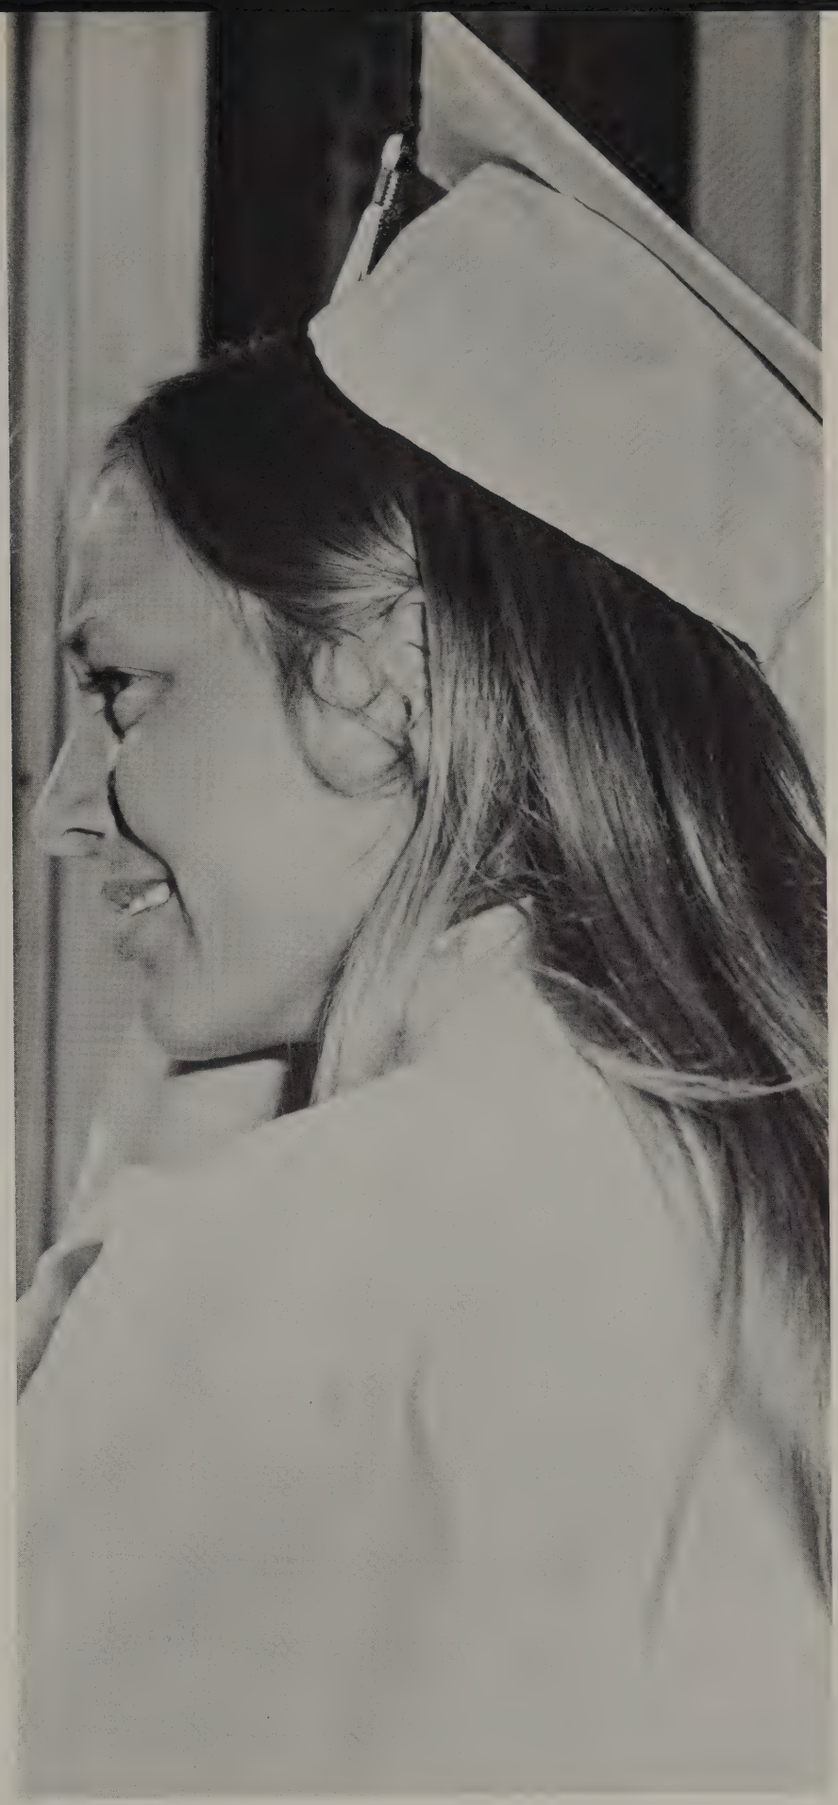
Commencement Climaxes Four Years

Remember—that was the word. Remember the first time the class of '69 ever came together, the first time it ever grouped together for competition's sake. The tests taken, the grades had, the masses celebrated were done all together. Then came class rings, a Junior Ring Dance, S.A.T. tests, college applications, a Senior Prom in Elkhart, and finally graduation. June 1, 1969 became the day worked towards. Four years of togetherness culminated in 197 diplomas sending all separate ways. The word before good-bye was remember—remember the times had, remember your being part of the class of 1969.



Terry Weinbeck realizes that graduation does mean good-bye.

Ernest Is 4th In Tourney

The Marian wrestling team grappled its way through a rough schedule of competitors. Losing its first two meets, the team faced 1969 without a victory. Extensive training during the Christmas vacation helped to improve their record. However, they were hampered by inexperience in the upper weight classes and couldn't summon enough strength to pull themselves to the top.

In the North Liberty Invitational, the team finished fifth out of eight competing teams.

Dave Gee was named the most improved wrestler and Joe Molnar, the most valuable wrestler.

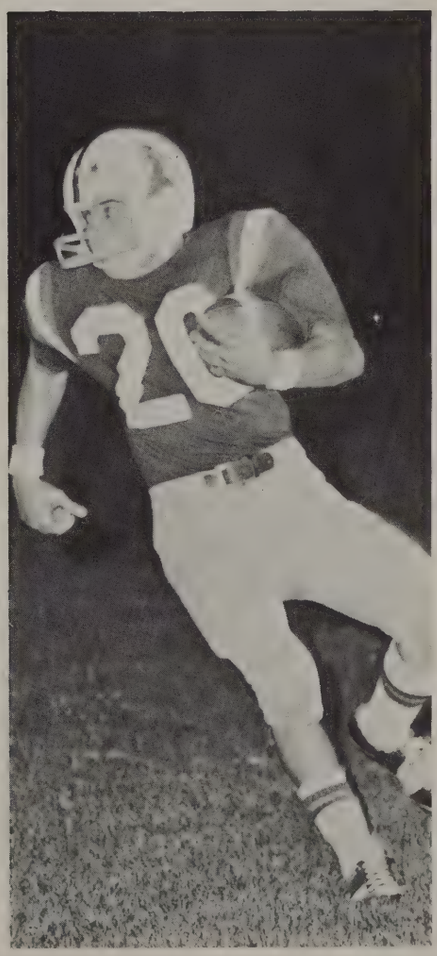
Plagued by inexperience, the Knights were unable to continue their string of victories of the past two seasons. Although the Knight's offense drove hard, they were often stopped deep in opponents' territory. The defense prevented rivals from gaining substantial headway.

The season opened with the disappointing 7-7 tie with South Bend Clay. In the second game, the Knights bounced back to over-run Terre Haute Garfield. Marian stretched its undefeated streak to 18 games with a victory over Jackson. The string of victories was broken by a loss to LaSalle High School.

The highlight of the year was the upset of St. Joe. The Knights limited the state ranked Indians to 2 first downs and only 60 yards.

The season closed with the Knight's 34-0 homecoming shut-out of Culver Military. This game marked the end of the High School career of 8 graduating lettermen.

Bound with determination, Marian Knights meet opponents head on.



Half-back, Ross Perri, cuts to the left to avoid a tackle.

Moorman Places in Competition

This year's cheerleading season opened during the summer at Camp All-American on Lake Geneva, Wisconsin. As a squad, the cheerleaders won a third place ribbon and individually, Captain Pam Moorman achieved a fourth place award.

When the school year started, the cheerleaders found themselves busy practicing twice a week, decorating halls and the locker room with signs, planning pep rallies, and cheering at all the games. The girls sponsored the football Homecoming Dance and with the proceeds they bought new cheerleading uniforms and letter sweaters, gifts for the senior football and basketball players, and carnations for the players and coaches at sectional time.

Later in the year, they were given their own cheerleading room. The squad was invited to various school's pep rallies, taught the cheerblock cheers, chants and motions, and participated in the annual hoot as the "M-squad."

The 1968-69 cheerleaders ended their activities after they selected next year's squad.

Moments of Today for Tomorrow

Members of the photographic staff are; Gary Lewandowski, Bill Staunton, Fabian Fuller.

Two weeks of intensive study at the Ball State journalism workshop for editor Kathy Rybak helped the MADRIGAL staff plan the preliminary structure of the yearbook early in September.

A largest-yet staff assembled the second annual MADRIGAL. The size of the book was increased to 9 by 12 inches and 148 pages. Colored pictures and duo-tones were used.

Summer delivery was advocated so that junior and senior proms, graduation and spring sports could be included.

At the beginning of the year, Mrs. Carol Kristl advised the staffers in the production. Assisting her were Mr. Dale Scheuller, Mr. Paul Deignan, and Mr. Robert Heintzelman, Newsfoto Publishing Company representative.

To help alleviate financial difficulties, the business staff sponsored Marian's first hall dance. Even though it was a novelty, the turnout was encouraging.

Marian's Volleyball team has been victorious in their league for three consecutive seasons.

Throughout this year's season the team was able to limit their opponent's scores. Then in the final game of the '69 season, Mishawaka halted the Marian Champs with scores of 12-15, 15-12, and 15-9.

Next year Mrs. Dunphy and the players look forward to continuing their almost perfect record of 38-1.

Senate Campaign Earns Machines

A strong student government was realized during the '68-'69 school year. The Student Senate, moderated by Mr. Thomas Burczynski, assumed a more responsible role as a truly active organization. It undertook the financial burdens of the Intra-Mural Program and raised funds by sponsoring the Powder Puff Football Game, the Valentine Date Raffle, and the Ugly Teacher Contest. Its latest successful endeavor, the Clean-Up Campaign, merited the school a juke box and a fruit machine. Senate Representatives also witnessed the coming of open meetings, a new amendment process, and a revised election procedure.

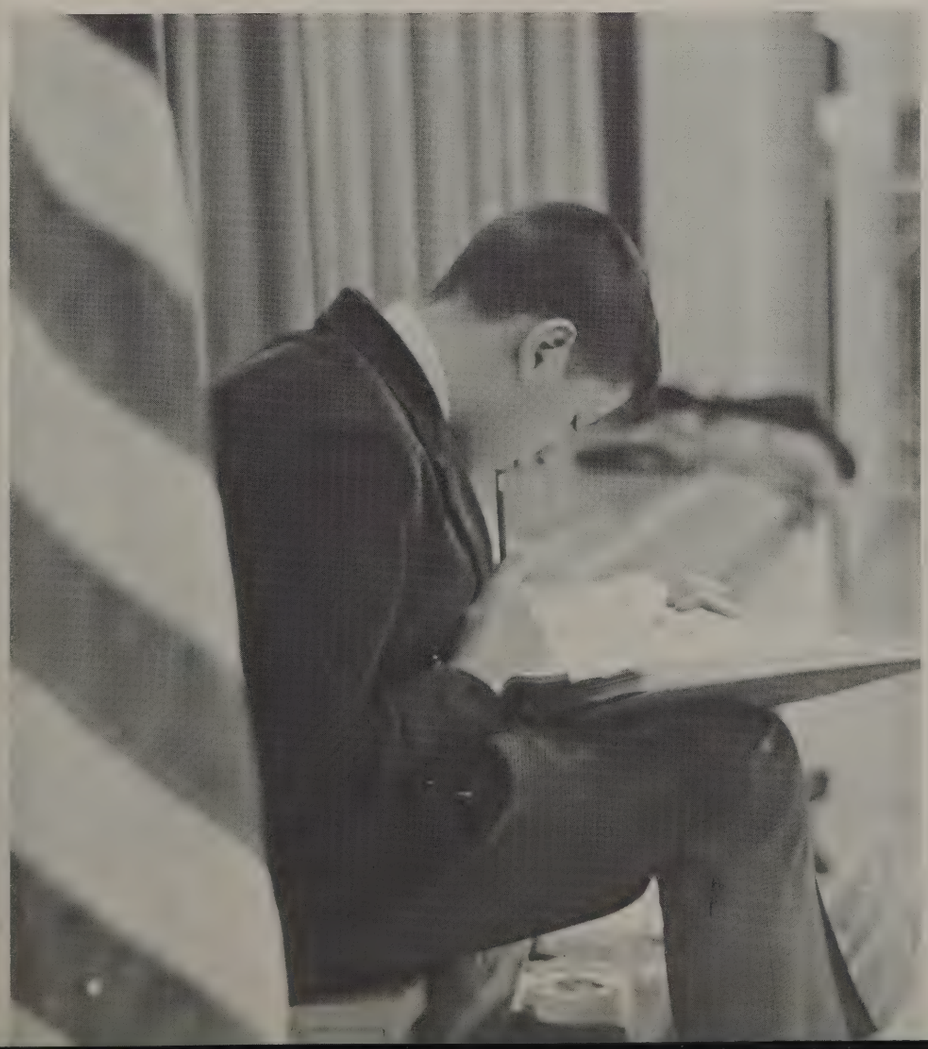
Annual Drive Helps 25 Families



The National Honor Society began the year with its fall induction ceremony, and with the help of the new members, undertook the annual Christmas Drive. The food, clothing, and money donated by the student body was distributed by the society members to 25 needy families during the week before Christmas.

A tutor program was also attempted for students at Marian. Anyone who felt he needed help with a particular subject signed up for assistance from an NHS member.

Although the NHS did not conduct a typical spring induction ceremony, six graduating seniors were awarded Honor Society membership cards and pins at the Baccalaureate breakfast.

Librarians Attend State Convention

Mrs. Foss, Library Assistant, checks in new material.

The library provides more than just a place to study.

Library Council members aid Sr. Helen Ann in the library, filling such jobs as desk duty, and book and magazine processing.

This year's activities commenced with a trip to Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana, for a state-wide convention of the "Hoosier Student Librarians Association". Three of Marian's Library Council members, Edith Revi, Alma Davis, and Mary Albrecht, competed for the offices of secretary, treasurer, and historian respectively. Edith succeeded in winning her post and Alma was appointed nominations chairman.

The Council continued its work by operating a booth at Las Vegas Night and by organizing a bus trip to Chicago at Christmas time.

In March, through the courtesy of Leo's Library Club, some of Marian's Library council members visited and toured Leo High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana. Later in the month, Leo's library members travelled to Marian for a tour of the school and of a few of the neighboring city sites.

April was highlighted by a Chicken Bar-B-Q. This dinner, a car wash, and three paper drives were the major fund-raising projects undertaken by the Council this year. New books, a new set of the Encyclopedia Britannica, and the new study cubicles were purchased with the money.

A new system for checking out books was a helpful change for the library. The system included no charge for past-due books. This encouraged more students to use the library's facilities more often, and thus helped the library fulfill its obligation to enhance the students' education.

Members of the Library Council are First Row: Paul Olszewski, Bob Hurtekant, Ed Hums, Tim Zmudzinski, and Dennis Wyjick. Sue Saracino, a volunteer member of the YCS headed this year's campaign with the a "Think Yes" theme.

Class competition was keen. The juniors got a head start in the spirit race by having the greatest attendance at the skating party. Points were awarded in other fields such as selling "Think Yes" buttons; Courtesy Day, and Hall decorations.

Each class was assigned a hall and asked to decorate it appropriately Austin Carr and Collis Jones, varsity basketball stars from Notre Dame, judged the halls on originality and theme.

They decided the Junior hall, with the "We came, we saw, we conquered," theme was the best.

School Spirit Week '69 ended with the selection of a king and queen to reign, Mary Kay Probst and Rick Goddard were crowned. Their court included Cathy Chearhart, Amy Holobyn, LaFay Freeze, Pam Moorman, Mark Nicolini, Joe Molnar, Tom Creevey, and Kevin Canfield.

Debate Team Takes State Honors

The Marian debate club, under Coach Steve Reeder, has continued its winning tradition. Knight debators won trophies at Hammond Morton, Highland, Divine Heart, Culver, and St. Joe Valley League.

Additional honors were attained as Kathie DeMetz and Dave McTigue captured second place in the NFL districts. Kevin Hoyt and Craig Ethier earned fifth place in the state competition, while Kathie and Dave were awarded seventh place. Marian closed the season with a ranking of second in the state.

Individual Efforts Spark Group

As in previous years, Red Cross functioned as a service organization under the direction of club moderator, Sister Claudette. Its endeavors included working as Red Cross volunteers in local hospitals, donating toys at the Corvilla, entertaining the old folks at the Golden Age Manor, teaching retarded children at Northern Indiana Children's Hospital, and halloweening at St. Patrick's school.

Future Nurses Visit Golden Manor

An interest in nursing or other health careers was the common denominator among members of the Future Nurses Club. This factor inspired a number of activities which included Christmas caroling at the Golden Age Manor Nursing Home and a party for all members of the club. The future nurses, advised by Mrs. Harvick, the girls' biology teacher, also conducted a field trip to St. Joseph's Hospital's Holy Cross School of Nursing.

Officers of Future Nurses were: (L-R) Cindy Horvath, Sec.-Treas.; Mrs. Harvick, Moderator; Marsha Popielski, Pres.; Pam Foster, Corres.-Sec., and Carol Gerber, Vice-Pres.

Band

MHS Band Makes Parade Debut

1969 marked the debut of the Marian Band in the annual Mishawaka Memorial Day Parade.

The music played and the beat went on, as sounded by the Marian High School band led by Mr. Koma.

Having acquired uniforms, more members, and the added attraction of the Pom-Pom girls, these Marian musicians played with contagious school spirit on the gridiron at football games, and in the gym at pep rallies.

The Swing Singers Add a Gay Note

Marian High School's Swing Singers were on the move this year, traveling throughout the South Bend-Mishawaka area. As an accredited course, under the direction of Mr. Frank Scardino, the group practiced three days a week in preparation for a number of holiday concerts. These included a tour of local grade schools, Christmas performances at various club parties, and an appearance on the Afternoon Show. Rehearsals and the Spring Concert were next on the agenda, with performances at the Fine Arts Festival and at Commencement Exercises completing the year's activities.

New Group Boosts Morale

Spirit, style, stamina, and smiles greeted fans as the Pom-Pom girls strutted down the turf and court. Realizing that their task of morale-boosting for the team and spectators was vital, the "Court Jesters" strove for perfection. Practice and more practice under the leadership of Debbie Horvath resulted in the successful routines.

This new organization, through its own efforts, has won admiration for itself and upheld the pride of M.H.S.

Editor Merits Valuable Staffer Award

With editors just back from summer workshops and new machines settled in the office, the Lance started its third year as an official newspaper.

The Lance's financial venture was not only a success for them, but a benefit to all football fans. The newspaper sponsored the publication of 16 page programs for all home football games.

The paper featured new attractions, such as the Teacher and Student Editorials and more letters to the Editor. The motive behind the added features was to make the paper more expressive of student opinion and more controversial on pertinent issues.

Finalizing the year, Anne Mahaney received the South Bend Tribune's Most Valuable Staffer Award.

Festival Climaxes The Year

Under the supervision of Sr. Columban, the Art Club went into full swing this year.

With the combined efforts of the officers: Jim Boger, Pres.; Mary Jo Hozinski, Vice-pres.; Tom Hojnacki, Sec.; and the many talented students, several worthwhile projects were contributed. Among these were the athletic murals on the gym wall, which took over two and a half months to complete.

Another achievement was the production of the "Mardi Gras" dance, which introduced Marian to a Blues Band and light show.

The club finished the year with the Fine Arts Festival. Art, drama, and music students who contributed in making this night a success were honored at the Fine Arts Banquet.

This display at the Fine Arts Festival shows the variety of subjects used in art class.

Swim Club Uses Skills For Fun

The Marian girls in the synchronized swim club dedicated Wednesday evenings to learning new techniques and routines as well as polishing up on familiar skills.

All of this preparation proved successful as the Marian swim club joined with the Mishawaka Y.M.C.A. to present a combination show of waterballet, comedy skits, and safety demonstrations.

With the co-operation of the team members and the officers: Linda Eberhardt (Pres.), Kathy Burnett (Vice Pres.), and Becky Linn (Sec. Treas.), and Mrs. Dunphy placed an order for colorful tank suits, made future plans, and elected officers for the coming year.

Under the moderation of Mr. Szymczak, the Monogram Club sponsored fund raising activities to help defray the cost of the athletic program. The officers; Mark Nicolini, Pres., Joe Molnar, Vice-pres., Terry Kurth, Sec., Paul Hoff, Treas., and Hugh Ogren, Sgt. at Arms, organized two successful car washes, sold Marian sweaters and sweatshirts, and aided the Booster Club in the sale of "Knight Klub" tickets. M-men also ushered at basketball games.

Members of Marian's Catholic Students' Mission Crusade, under the direction of Sr. Hilaria, lent their assistance to Sr. Marita who conducted classes for underprivileged children at St. Stephen's. As volunteers, they tutored the children in needed areas. Special projects included helping clean and fix up a recreation room and organizing a Christmas party for their pupils.

The Executive Board aided Fr. Verhagen in resolving matters of school policy. For those unfamiliar with it, the Executive Board was an advisory committee of teachers who were interested in keeping Marian abreast of educational progress. It has concerned itself with a system (which goes into effect every four years) of evaluating textbooks used at Marian; a teacher handbook, produced to familiarize teachers with school policy; the drawing up of the Honor Roll; and determining the grading policy.

The Board also directed the introduction of proposed innovations, such as discontinuing the use of bells between classes.

Members of the Board were: Mr. Burzynski, Fr. Verhagen, Sr. Evodine, Mr. Logan, Mr. Otolski, Mrs. Cotter, Sr. Helen Ann, Fr. Schulze, Fr. Abler, Fr. Tursini, and Bro. Gilbert.

Guidance Dept. Becomes P.P.S.

Previously known as the Guidance Department, this organization has been transformed into the Pupil Personnel Service. Its function was obvious—it served the student body, as in matters of college choices, career possibilities, and course selections.

Fr. Tursini was designated head of the new P.P.S., with Sr. Evodine and Fr. Gagnon also offering their services.

Bob Coscarelli steals a quiet moment to seek counseling from Fr. Tursini.

Discipline

A highly respected trio at Marian were the Deans of Discipline: with Bro. Gilbert in charge of the boys; Mrs. Cotter handling the Junior and Senior girls; and Sr. Angela taking charge of the Freshman and Sophomore girls. These people concerned themselves with student absences, tardiness, off-campus permits, and disciplinary problems as they arose.

Functioning under the auspices of the Discipline Department, and under the specific direction of Bro. Gilbert, was the Student Board. Composed of eleven members of the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior classes, this organization handled minor infractions of the rules on the part of Marian's male students by assigning punishments suitable to the offenses.

Imagination and creativity! These were the key words of the Fine Arts Department and its endeavors.

A course in design started the year off as the first of many projects in the Art Section. Sister Columban, head of Art, kept her students constantly busy with a wide range of techniques.

In Drama, plans were made for each of the plays given this year. Arsenic and Old Lace, as well as the first play consisting entirely of seniors were some of the results.

Music as always, was busy with activities. These ranged from music classes conducted by Mr. Koma to the constant movement of the Swing Singers, directed by Mr. Scardino. Marian's band enlarged on its performances by adding uniforms and marching on the field.

Students Explore Literary World

For the English Department, summer held more than the usual amount of work. Meeting frequently, the personnel made plans for the coming year. Among the plans seen this year at Marian was the new reading system, created to give students a better understanding of the novels and plays under discussion. This system eliminated the sometimes senseless choice of books made by students. A special list, composed of twelve books, was drawn up for each individual class. From this, each teacher was required to choose eight books, which he or she felt the class should be able to understand. After each assigned book was finished, a test composed by the entire department was given to the class. Some of the literature studied was: Franny and Zooey for the seniors; Hamlet and The Catcher in the Rye for the juniors; Black Boy and The Lord of the Flies for the sophomores; and, Animal Farm for the freshmen.

Though each class concentrated on a certain medium of English, all classes stressed the use of grammar.

A personal insight is passed on by Fr. Hinds, head of the English Dept.

Languages Expand into Cultures

Spanish expanded to the theatre, French to the Church, while Russian came to the classroom in Marian's Language Department.

Spanish students, while increasing their knowledge of "Espanol" also took to the theatre. Morris Civic Auditorium presented the play "Man of La Mancha" which students were advised to see. This was to help them to a better knowledge of Spanish history.

A French mass at St. Mary's Academy was celebrated for students interested in increasing their understanding of French.

A conducted tour of Russia through pictures was presented to Russian students by Mrs. Orfanos, Russian teacher. On her visit there she acquired pictures of Russian peasantry. Russian was new this year and established itself as a most difficult and unusual language.

German II and Spanish IV were added to the curriculum as students progressed in their comprehension and mastery of languages.

The Facts And Figures

An enthusiastic Debbie Ganger explains the use of the slide rule to classmates.

To give students a basic foundation in Math, the department provided for various subjects in the different classes. Freshman year students chose from General Business or Modern Algebra, while General or Modern Geometry was on the agenda for the Sophomores. Juniors and seniors going further in Math undertook Intermediate Algebra and Trigonometry, Advanced Math and Calculus.

A new outlook in Math, with a greater use of programmed materials, was taken in classes. This method concentrated on the individuals' work rather than on the class or the material in the book. It also enabled each student to work at his own speed, whether fast or slow. Classes under this system would sometimes meet only twice or three times a week. The remaining time was used for either individual studying or assistance from the teacher.

New Field Enters Scientific Groove

With Earth Science, Biology, Chemistry, and Physics offered at Marian, students had plenty of opportunity to get into the scientific groove, or rut, whatever the case may be!

Earth Science became the "new thing" in the department, incorporating a variety of sciences, which students covered with an investigative approach in their own newly equipped lab.

Biology, which is required for graduation, involved field trips, observations under the microscope, class reports, and highly exciting but odorous dissections, attempted in both the boys' and girls' labs.

Chemistry, envisioned as the subject of mad scientists and sudden destructive explosions, proved to be a course of note-taking, movies, discussions of observations, and lab work accomplished with the aid of students' individual and classroom equipment.

Physics developed as a true challenge, consisting of experiments, lectures, and problems. Figuring out the number of ping-pong balls that could fit into the physics lab, while taking into consideration the space occupied by lights, desks, and the like, was one such problem. The physics lab could also boast of new equipment: a friction-free table, a laser, and a radiation scintillator (a sophisticated geiger-counter).

The Science Department can be justly proud of its program, for their efforts, plus students' interest have produced a comparatively high percentage of students taking science courses.

Undaunted and amused, Mr. Deignan instructs his American History class.

Christ is risen! So what? The answer to that exclamation lies at the core of life and was the chief concern of the Religion Department at Marian.

To create an atmosphere in the whole school whereby students had the opportunity to grow in the realization of the living Christ, to be able to explicate that realization, and to experience it by personal Christian maturity, were endless demanding challenges. Many different approaches were required, such as lecture, modern audio-visual material, discussion in class, discussion in homes, student-teachers, and most of all, a staff of flexible, dedicated, and convinced Christian teachers.

The thrust of the Religion Department was the thrust of the Church in its willingness to risk and trust. The Risen Christ's call to men is attractive enough to elicit a freely given response of love rather than a forced compliance.

A number of new and different things came out of the Business Department this year as Marian expanded its program. This expansion led to the bringing in of speakers and the outside employment of students.

Speakers for instruction and demonstration came to inform business students on new trends and important information. Mr. George Weimer, Post Master talked to students on mailing procedures, addressing of envelopes, and the zip code. Mr. Riley came to demonstrate some new electronic machines. One machine brought in was a new type of calculator. This machine could answer mathematical problems faster than any adding machine or calculator we had.

But the biggest thing that came to the Business Department was the help given to business students in finding jobs. This year was the first time it was tried and the results were good. Students in Secretarial Practice were aided by Sister Clara Ann, Head of the Department in getting part time jobs. These jobs, upon graduation and the students' good work would go into full time work.

our customer's demands are growing

Keeping up with the increasing demands and expanding needs of our customers for more electric power is a full-time job.

To do so, we're constantly expanding.

I&M will soon begin construction of a nuclear generating station on Lake Michigan that will be one of the world's largest. It will produce some 2.2 million kilowatts of electric power to serve the homes, farms, businesses and industries in I&M's two-state service area.

Using the atom for power generation is just another way we can better serve our customers with low-cost, dependable electricity.
